Examination and study regulations for the consecutive Master's degree programme "Finance, Accounting and Taxes" at the University of Göttingen

§ 1 Scope

(1) The provisions of the "General examination regulations for the Bachelor's and Master's degree programmes and other degree programmes offered by the University of Göttingen" (APO) and the "General examination and study regulations for the Master's degree programmes at the Faculty of Economic Sciences" (RPO-MA) in the respective applicable version apply to the consecutive Master's degree programme "Finance, Accounting and Taxes".

(2) These regulations stipulate the additional provisions for the Master's degree programme.

§ 2 Aim of the qualification

<sup>1</sup>In the Master's degree programme "Finance, Accounting and Taxes", graduates acquire in-depth knowledge in the areas of finances, accounting and auditing, business taxation as well as financial controlling; this includes the newest technical-scientific developments in these areas. <sup>2</sup>In this course of study, students first go through a study of all the different areas; afterwards, they may either specialize in one of these areas or continue to study with a broader focus. <sup>3</sup>Based on the acquired competencies, graduates are enabled to analyse, critically assess and solve complex economic problems, which concern international accounting, international taxation, business valuation, the employment of derivatives in risk management as well as the development of financial products and digital financial markets. <sup>4</sup>In this context, graduates are also enabled to include considerations of interdependencies within and across these different areas, as well as to include consideration of the social consequences as part of their decision-making, thereby being enabled to act responsibly. <sup>5</sup>After graduation, graduates may thus enter into nationally and internationally high-ranking professions or doctoral studies within the areas of finances, accounting and auditing, business taxation and financial controlling.

§ 3 Recommended prior knowledge

<sup>1</sup>In the Master's programme, it is very beneficial in particular to have established knowledge of the English language, mathematics, statistics and computer skills. <sup>2</sup>Students whose credits in mathematics and statistics were not better than satisfactory in the course of their preliminary studies, and whose English and/or computer skills are low, are recommended to qualify themselves appropriately before taking on the Master's programme.

§ 4 Structural contents of the Master's degree programme and credit requirements

(1) The 120 C which must be completed over the standard course length of the Master's programme "Finance, Accounting and Taxation" of four semesters are comprised as follows:

1. Compulsory part of the programme - Basic modules	24 C
2. Specialisation area Finance, Accounting, Taxes	30 C
3. Seminar	6 C
4. Methods area	6 C
5. Elective area	24 C
6. Master's thesis	30 C

(2) <sup>1</sup>The basic modules impart fundamental knowledge in the areas Finance, Accounting and Taxes, and expand the knowledge already acquired in a first course of study. <sup>2</sup>These modules form the basis for the elective compulsory modules in the specialisation area "Finance, Accounting, Taxes" as well as for the seminars. <sup>3</sup>It is recommended that the basic modules be completed within the first two semesters. <sup>4</sup>The "specialisation area Finance, Accounting, Taxes" helps to create a special profile in the areas of Finance, Accounting and Taxes. <sup>5</sup>The area "seminar" helps to expand knowledge in the sub-sections Finance, Accounting and Taxes in a seminar course, which deals with an interdisciplinary problem area in a project oriented manner. <sup>6</sup>The area "Methods" in particular serves to expand the knowledge of methods of theoretical, empirical and experimental academic work. <sup>7</sup>In the elective area students can acquire knowledge for creating an individual profile from other areas of Economic Sciences as well as related fields. <sup>8</sup>Moreover, in this area it is possible to choose modules of foreign language training and/or modules for acquiring other key qualifications.

(3) Through a specialisation within the framework of a Master's degree programme, students are in a position to acquire specific professional qualifications in one or more of the functional areas Finance, Accounting and Taxes and/or in one or more institutional fields of application (such as financial services or auditing).

(4) An overview of the modules which can be selected in the individual areas can be found in the digital module index as well as appendix I. <sup>2</sup>Participation in a research colloquium, in which your own work has to be presented, is a part of the master's thesis.

(5) <sup>1</sup>A written master's thesis with a weightage of 30 C, has to be completed within a preparation time of 20 weeks. <sup>2</sup>Participation in a research colloquium, in which your own work has to be presented, is the advance preparation for passing the master's thesis.
